LOUISA, LAWRENCE COUNTY, KENTUCKY, NOVEMBER 29, 1918.

M. F. CONLEY, Publisher

GENERAL WILLIAM ORLANDO JOHNSON

LOUISA NOW BOASTS OF A GENERAL IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY.

Our own Will Johnson was recently promoted from the rank of Colonel to the office of Brigadier-General in the army. He is in France, having gone there in the line of duty several months ago.

Gen. Johnson is the eldest son of George F. Johnson, deceased, who was county clerk of Lawrence county for sixteen years. He always has been recognized as one of the brainiest boys ever produced by this county. His mother lives in Louisa and Gen. Johnson paid her a brief visit while on his way from a southwestern camp to an eastern seaport just before sailing for France.

The following clipping from the Courier-Journal in correct but we will add the fact that Gen. Johnson was sent to the Philippines twice for service of about two years each. While there we are told he was acting Governor of the islands for a time. Usually he succeeds in keeping secret all such interesting facts about himself, being by nature very reticent on personal matters.

Here is the notice given him by the Courier-Journal:

Col. W. O. Johnson, recently promoted in France to Brigadier-General, is a Kentuckian. He was born at Louisa in 1886 and was graduated from West Point in 1910. He was instructor in mathematics at West Point from 1913 to 1916, and for a term of four years was instructor in French and Spanish. Brig. Gen. Johnson's mother, Mrs. Sara Vinson Johnson, lives at Louisa. J. J. Johnson, with the Consolidated Coal company at Jenkins; J. R. Johnson, with the State Road Department at Pineville, and P. A. Johnson, assistant superintendent of the School of Reform at Greendale, are brothers of Gen. Johnson.

INFLUENZA.
There is yet a good deal of influenza in some neighborhoods of Lawrence county, but on the whole the situation is very much improved.

At Lexington the disease has had another run but is now under control. Pikeville is almost free from the disease now.

BIG SANDY BOY WINS AT CLEVELAND

In a Junior Red Cross contest at Cleveland, Ohio, a little son of Boyd Wellman, formerly of Louisa, won first prize with a speech. You just can't keep these Big Sandy boys from grabbing all the prizes in sight.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE THURSDAY

Louisa's churches will hold union Thanksgiving services Thursday morning at the Baptist church, in accordance with the custom of many years. It falls to the turn of the pastor of the M. E. Church South to preach and Rev. H. O. Chambers will perform that duty. All the pastors will take some part in the services. Ten o'clock in the forenoon is the hour for the meeting to begin.

This year finds us with more to be thankful for than ever before, so it is to be expected that a larger congregation than ever before will gather to show their thankfulness.

CONFERENCE OF FOOD OFFICERS HELD IN LOUISVILLE

Miss Maud Smith, county chairman of the women's food organization of Lawrence county, was among the chairmen of the state who met in Louisville last week. Miss Smith has been very active in many kinds of war work.

Mrs. Ed Kirk of Martin-co., attended the conference and returned to Louisa Sunday evening. She is a teacher in the Inez school and has also done much in Red Cross and other war work. This meeting was a preliminary to world relief work and was an important gathering of Kentucky leaders of the work. The international food plan for the world reconstruction period and means for preventing profiteering were considered. More than 300 members from various sections of the state were present.

Col. Jay H. Northrup attended the meeting as chairman of Lawrence-co. It was quite an important gathering.

MOUNTAIN LIFE CONFERENCE

Second Meeting of Eastern Kentucky Mountain Life Conference to be held at Paintsville December 12, 13, 14.

The greatest gathering of talent and brains ever gotten together in the hills. A real treat in entertainment, instruction, and uplift. December 12, 13, 14, at Paintsville, Kentucky.

Owing to the fact that influenza broke the plans of everybody all to pieces, this meeting could not be held as formerly advertised. However, now that the situation is clearing up, we are going ahead with the original program. All the speakers have held themselves at our disposal for this meeting and will be on hand to participate in the program as though nothing had occurred to detain us in our purposes.

We invite everybody who loves these hills to attend this meeting. These opportunities do not come often. We are on the eve of victory over the water, and probably few days will elapse until the Hun will have laid down his arms. That may happen before this goes to press. But for us, the real battle is on. What are we going to do with the liberty which our boys have died to save? They have given us and the world a new day. What shall we do with it? Come, let us learn together our duty and our responsibility in this new hour that is on us. Let us shake the shackles from our own lives in honor of those who have laid down the shackles that bound a world.

Our part of Kentucky is rich in promise. Let us get together and bring the promise to fulfillment. Every man and woman who has a desire to see a better day in education, agriculture, commerce, mining, professions, or what not, to you the hand of the new day is extended. You will be able to shake with it at this meeting and catch a glimpse of the rich things to come. Let the battle cry be now: ON TO PAINTSVILLE, where a battle is staged against the hurt of ignorance, and the banner of a full life will be raised. We will meet you there.

Yours truly,

K. L. VARNNEY, District Agent.

Teachers To Attend.

Teachers of Pike, Floyd and Johnson to attend and count time by permission of Supt. Gilbert, Frankfort. We expect to arrange for Lawrence county teachers also. K. L. VARNNEY, District Agent.

THE CRIMINAL KAISER TO BE TAKEN OVER

London, November 25.—It is learned on authority late to-day that the allied Governments are considering a plan of making joint application for the extradition of the former Kaiser. Since the former Emperor is at Amonerong Castle, Holland, such application would be made to the Dutch Government.

GARNETT RICHMOND A VICTIM OF HUNS

A telegram received a few days ago brought the sad news that Garnett Richmond, brother of J. L. Richmond, of this place, was killed in battle in France on October 12th. His home was at Rural Retreat, Va. He enlisted before the United States entered the war, and he saw service in Mexico. He was 23 years old and was a young man of good habits and high character. His regiment was one of those that swam the river Meuse to get at the Huns and it was soon after that his death occurred.

THE KAISER HOARDED FOOD IN PALACE

Amsterdam, Nov. 24.—"How Wilhelm Held Out" is the title of an article in the Frankfort Volkstimme by William Carle, a Socialist, who discovered the hoards of provisions which the former Emperor had in his Berlin palace.

"The quantity," the writer says, "exceeded all expectations. In large white tiled rooms was everything, literally everything one can imagine in food-stuffs. It is inconceivable that after four years of war such huge quantities could be hoarded. There was meat and game in cold storage, salted provisions in large cases, white meal in sacks piled to the roof, thousands of eggs, gigantic boxes filled with tea, coffee, chocolate, lard, jelly and jam; hundreds of sugar loaves and endless stacks of peas, beans, dried fruits and biscuits. Their value amounts to several hundred thousand marks.

WAR WORK GIFTS OVER THE TOP

The gifts to the combined war work fund in the United States exceeded the amount originally asked for by nearly thirty-three millions.

A LETTER RECEIVED FROM MCKINLEY PIGG

Miss Otis Pigg has received a letter from her brother McKinley Pigg written from a hospital in France. He was wounded in the elbow, but he states that he will be released from the hospital soon. He had received a letter written to him by Mrs. G. R. Vinson, chairman of the Civilian Relief Committee of the Lawrence county Red Cross chapter, telling him about the death of his father.

CARNEGIE'S EIGHTY-THIRD

New York, November 25.—Andrew Carnegie celebrated his eighty-third birthday by entertaining relatives and friends at an informal dinner this evening. His secretary said: "Mr. Carnegie especially is happy on this birthday, which comes just after peace has been ushered in."

GREAT VICTORY FOR UNITED STATES

Paris, November 25.—The United States Government's immense diplomatic success in obtaining from the Allied Governments acceptance of President Wilson's points, with only one reservation and addition, is becoming more apparent. The preliminaries for the approaching Peace Congress are being outlined largely on the basis of President's points.

Allied statesmen plainly put forward the view that, as the American traditional policy had been one of detachment from European affairs, it was natural for the American Government, when the war began in Europe, to consider it a quarrel among European nations and to declare its neutrality. It was pointed out that for two years and a half the American Government observed its neutrality and called the attention of both groups of belligerents to violations of sea law.

Will Accept All Offers.

These statesmen made it plain that they would receive every friendly sound from the United States would offer, the more because they knew that America wanted nothing in a material way for herself, but was interested only in realizing her ideas.

The conferences on the preliminaries of peace probably will be held in Paris instead of Versailles owing to the superior accommodations and conveniences in the capital. Only the formal sessions at concluding stages will be held at Versailles.

The only active sittings now going on are those of the Joint Armistice Commission, which holds daily sessions at Spa, the former German headquarters, but which now is held by the French.

PRIVATES CAN WEAR UNIFORMS THREE MONTHS

The privates who are discharged from the army must turn in their uniforms to the government within three months from the time of their discharge and are not permitted to wear any uniform after that time unless they re-enlist. Officers may keep their uniforms and wear them on state occasions.

WORLD'S FAIR OF METHODISM

Commemorating the coming of peace and the centennial of its missionary activity the Methodist Episcopal church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South will hold "a world's fair of Methodism" at Columbus, Ohio, from June 29 to July 17, 1919.

The program of missionary work throughout the world, which will involve an expenditure of $15,000,000, will be visualized by transporting all most of the native villages from the various foreign fields to the buildings of the Ohio State Exposition grounds. A Chinese town with walls, pagodas, temples, schools, a hospital, theater, restaurants and homes, together with villages representing Japan, Korea, Africa, India and the Philippines, all peopled by their native inhabitants, in native dress, will illustrate the customs and conditions with which missionaries must deal.

A special building will be devoted to newer fields of the Board of Home Missions, including American Indians, Eskimos, negroes and Southern mountaineers. Work among lumber jacks, cowboys and mining men also will be picturesquely shown.

Another feature will be a pageant illustrating the development of Methodism from the days of John Wesley to the present.

The problem of housing the expected 50,000 daily visitors will be solved by building a "tent-city" to care for those unable to find accommodations in hotels and private homes.

ARMY AVIATORS WANT TO JOIN AERIAL MAIL SERVICE

New York, Nov. 25.—Hundreds of army aviators have called recently at the Aero Club of America headquarters here asking assistance in getting into the aerial mail service.

As the result of these requests Hawley telegraphed to Secretary of War Baker as follows:

"Hundreds of army aviators who have been notified they must decide in a few days whether to resign their commissions or join the regular army have applied to the Aero Club of America for positions. Most of them are anxious to join the aerial mail service, therefore, we urge that the time in which they must place their resignations with the army be delayed long enough to permit them to connect themselves with the post office for the aerial service."

"Second Asst. Postmaster General Praeger and B. B. Lippner, superintendent of the aerial mail service, are ready to establish fifty aerial mail lines throughout the United States and employ 10,000 military aviators to carry mail. You can hasten the establishing of these mail lines and the employing of these aviators by turning over to the postal authorities five hundred of these airplanes the army can not use at present."

REVIVAL SERVICES

DECEMBER 8-22

Rev. Burke Culpepper, the great evangelist, will arrive at Louisa in time to start the series of revival meetings at the M. E. Church South on Sunday, December 8. All details are being completed. Rev. Culpepper will be here two weeks and three Sundays, remaining over the 22nd.

Rev. Culpepper is one of the most earnest and effective evangelists now engaged in this line of work. Those who have heard him speak in the very highest terms of his methods and his preaching.

DRILLING FOR OIL IS CONTINUING

The oil development in this valley will no doubt go forward more rapidly now as it soon will be easier to get equipment and supplies.

A well has been started at Richardson on R. D. Hinkle's place. It is said two or more test wells will be drilled on leases there. The geological reports on the territory are very favorable.

A drilling outfit is being moved to the Mitchell tract of land five miles south of Louisa, by the Big Blaine Oil Co. This tract has good paying wells on all sides and looks like a sure thing.

Near Prestonsburg a well has been drilled that is reported to promise 12 to 15 barrels production.

In Johnson county the prospectors are finding paying quantities of gas.

The Dollar Oil Company has drilled its second well on the Endicott land between Peach Orchard and Tug River. The first well is good for a million or more cubic feet of gas per day, it is said, and the second is producing gas and a small quantity of oil.

Breathitt and Lee counties are now the center of oil excitement further out in the State.

TWO DAYS IN A HUN DUGOUT

With the American Forces in France, Oct. 25.—Wounded and taken prisoner by the Germans and for two days kept in a dugout on the side of a hill which was under shell fire alternately by the Americans and then by the enemy, two American privates were rescued by their comrades after forty-eight hours of fighting. Owing to censorship regulations regarding wounded soldiers it is not possible to give the names of the two men.

The privates were captured in the region of Chatel Chehery along the eastern edge of the Argonne forest, just before Chatel Chehery was captured by the Americans. While the Germans were endeavoring to decide what to do with the wounded men the American artillery opened up and the Germans determined in a hurry to remove them to a nearby dugout, and four big Germans crowded in beside them.

For two days the artillery, first of the Americans and then of the Germans, swept the hill, and so intense was the shelling that even the Germans did not attempt to escape.

To The Rescue.
On the third day the American infantry began going forward; and when the crest of the hill was reached there was a rush of the Americans to the place where their two comrades had been wounded in an encounter while making a reconnaissance in the early morning. Leading the men was Capt. Howell Foreman of Atlanta, Ga., who had little hope of finding the two men alive.

One of the Americans heard a sound from within the dugout and one of the detachment, in German, ordered those on the inside to surrender, threatening to shower the dugout entrance with hand grenades at once. The reply that came back was in perfectly good English—and four husky Germans stepped from the cave with their hands above their heads. A moment afterward the wounded Americans had come into their own again. Despite German machine gunners firing from the edge of the forest and from commanding heights to the northwest, the Americans were carried back over the hill from which they had come more than two days before the four German prisoners marching beside them.

UNITS ENROUTE FROM ENGLAND

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—The first units of the American expeditionary forces to return from overseas are expected to reach New York the last of this week. General March, chief of staff, announced today that 382 officers, four nurses and 6,614 enlisted men left Liverpool last week. The units, largely air squadrons, have been training in England.

General March announced that the three vessels were expected to arrive in New York about the end of this month.

This announcement means that the movement of the American troops now in England the majority of whom are in air service detachments, will continue steadily until all of them, some 20,000 have returned to this country. There are no regiments or other line of troops in Great Britain.

Return Depends on Ships.
The first movement of the larger units, such as brigades and divisions will come from French ports, it is assumed as the British cross channel service undoubtedly is completely occupied with the transportation of returning British forces.

Sergeant Ed K. Spencer of this city, is in the 140th Aero Squadron, John B. Horton, 279th and Garland Webb of Fallsburg, in the 176th.

GENERAL NEWS OF WAR MATTERS

DOINGS OF THE ARMY AND PLANS FOR THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

Demobilization of the army and navy is starting, but such a big task, faced so suddenly, finds many delays caused by the enormous detail. A few will be at their homes for Thanksgiving dinner, but not many. Christmas will find a host of them at home.

Among those slated to return from France soon are the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Kentucky regiments.

President Wilson and a party of about 200 will sail on the ship George Washington early next week for France. Peace terms will at once receive consideration, although the regular peace conference may not sit before January 1. Great preparations are being made for the reception of President Wilson in Paris, where the conference will be held. He is being urged by England and Italy to visit their countries also.

American troops are now in Germany doing police work along the border. Kentucky troops are among the number.

Belgium's government has taken charge of its affairs since the Huns moved out.

Germany's big fleet of war ships has surrendered and is now in the hands of the allied navies. Also, more submarines have been taken over.

Germany is reported to be badly torn up as to government. The socialists appear to be in control. Some of the states are declaring themselves republics and setting up governments of their own.

ONE PRIVATE AT CAMP TAYLOR IS GOING TO FRANCE

The Louisville Post says: The happiest man in Camp Taylor is Private A. J. Farber, of the Depot Brigade. A lone order was received from Washington instructing private Farber to proceed to a port of embarkation prepared for a trip to Paris, France, where he will report to the commanding general of the quartermaster depot.

There was no explanation as to why this order was issued.

NATIONWIDE PROHIBITION LAW

President Wilson promptly signed the law passed by Congress providing for making the United States dry from July 1, 1919, until the demobilization of all troops is completed. This will require a year or more from that date. By that time it is believed the necessary number of States will have ratified the National prohibition amendment to the Constitution, thus putting an end to the curse of the liquor traffic.

In the light of these circumstances is the conclusion of the conference that attempts to hold the price of hogs at the price of corn may work out to the disadvantage of pork producers. It is the conclusion that any interpretation of the formula should be a broad gauged policy applied over a long period. It is the opinion of the conference that in substitution of the previous plans of stabilization the new Stock Subcommittee of the Agricultural Advisory Board, together with specially invited swine representatives, should accept the invitation of the Food Administration to join with the Administration and the packers in determining the prices at which condensed export orders are to be placed. It will be regularly done. Total losses in killed during the war are estimated by Washington experts at between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 and the total casualties at between 25,000,000 and 30,000,000. They figure that Russian losses have been more than 2,000,000 killed and that German fatalities will be considerably more than 1,500,000, the figure recently announced by the Berlin Vorwaerts.

The casualty list given out yesterday contains 1,741 names. Of this number 505 were killed in action and 108 of wounds.

The other two spoke German and had been missing for at least three days and, I think, had escaped by this time. They were not returned while I was at Brandenburg.

This was about 7 a. m. They drilled us down to the little lake, where the cold was much greater, and kept us there until 5 p. m., without food or drink. At about eight that morning they found Fontaine in a French barracks and kicked him all the way to the lake where we were.

All day long we stood there, falling one by one and getting kicked or beaten each time until we dragged ourselves up again. Two or three died—I do not know the exact number. But we had enough strength, when ordered back to the barracks, to kick Fontaine ahead of us all the way. We did not get anything to eat until seven the next morning—twenty-four hours without food and water, ten of which were spent in the snow without any protection from the cold and wind.

No wonder we kicked Fontaine for bringing this punishment on us and endangering the two who had escaped—he had simply strolled over to the French barracks and forgot to return.

Now, the food received was just about enough to keep us alive. I suppose, with true humor, the Huns had figured out just how much it would take to keep a man on this side of the starvation line and gave us that much and no more. So we were always famished—always hungrier than you probably ever have been. But sometimes when we were ravenously hungry and could not hold out any longer we would trade rations.

One man would trade his whole ration for the next day for a half ration today. That is, if you were so hungry that you thought you could not last out the day on your regular share, you would tell someone else that if he gave you half his share today you would give him all of yours tomorrow. If he was a gambler he would take you up. That is, he would gamble on his being alive tomorrow, not on your keeping your word. He knew you would come across with your ration the next day, and like us, if you tried to keep it from him, he would kick you, and nobody would blame him.

One Man Would Trade His Whole Ration for the Next Day for Half a Ration Today.

It certainly was hard, when the next day came, to give up your whole ration and go without that day. But I never saw a man hedge, or even speak of it. And we did not have any food pirates among us either—we were not captives of industry by any means.

There were times when some of us could not eat certain of our rations. For instance, many and many a time I was so hungry as anybody could be, and I wanted to eat my bread, but it seemed as if I could not get it into my mouth. Then I would trade it with someone else for his "shinola soup" or his barley coffee.

We were dying every day in Brandenburg and after each death the senior men of that barracks would detail twelve of their number to go out for half an hour and dig the grave, while others made little crosses, on which they wrote or carved the man's name, when he was captured, and his regiment or ship. In the middle of the cross were always the letters, E. L. P.—Rest in Peace.

One time we were ordered to report to the German doctors for a serum treatment of some kind—to receive an injection, in other words. There was no choice about it this time, as we were simply banded together to the hospital barracks. Now, I knew what these things were like and how brutal the German doctors were in giving an injection, so I wanted to be the very first man and not have to witness the other men getting theirs.

So I pushed up to the head of the line, with the crew of H. M. S. Nomad, who had been captured in the Jutland battle, and by the time we got to the hospital was the very first man in line. But the sentry threw me back and there were several men ahead of me.

Each of them bared his chest and the doctors slashed them across the breast with a very thin knife, so you can see that it was very painful. When it came to my turn they slashed me three times in the shape of a triangle just to one side of the breast. And that was all there was to it—no injection, nothing on the knife that I could see.

Now, I do not know what the idea was. Every man of us was dizzy for the rest of the day and could not do anything but lay around the barracks. And hardly any of us pined a drop though the gashes were deep. I do not think we had any blood in us to run, and that is the truth of it. It was just another German trick that no one could explain.

One day a war correspondent named Bennett, from a Chicago paper, came to the camp and went through all the barracks. When he came to our barracks I told him I was an American and asked for the news. Instead of answering he began to ask all sorts of questions. Finally, after I had told him I had been in the French service, I asked him if he could help me in any way. He answered that I had only myself to blame and that it served me right if I had been in one of the allied armies.

I did not like his looks much and he seemed unfriendly, but when he began smoking a cigarette it almost drove me crazy and I could not help asking for one. He refused me and said I should have stayed in my own country, where I could have had plenty of cigarettes.

After a while he threw away a cigarette stub and not only I but three or four others who were near made a dive for it. A man named Kelley got it—a crazy man who went around trying to eat wood and cloth and anything he could find.

When my three weeks were up and I had not heard from Mr. Gerard I was just about ready to go down to the lake and pick out a vacant spot and lay down in it. I really do not think I could have lasted two weeks longer.

And just about that time, as I was walking back to barracks one day, a Frenchman showed me a German newspaper, and there in large type on the top of the first page it said that Mr. Gerard had left the country, or was getting ready to leave. They had to drag me the rest of the way to the barracks and throw snow on me before I came to.

[Gunner Depew's interview with Mr. Gerard took place at the Dulmen prison camp on or about February 1, 1917. On February 3, our state department demanded the release of sixty-two Americans captured on British vessels and held as prisoners in Germany. On the same day, President Wilson severed diplomatic relations with Germany. Ambassador Gerard left Germany exactly one week later. The newspaper that Gunner Depew saw must have been issued after February 10. It was not until March 9, 1917, however, that Gunner Depew was actually released from Brandenburg.—Editor's Note.]

I do not know what happened during the next few days.

But a week or so later the Spanish ambassador and four German officers and Swatts came to our barracks and the ambassador told me I would be released. It was all I could do to keep from fainting again. Then Swatts asked me in English if I had anything to say about the treatment in the camp, and I began to think—maybe it was a frame-up of some kind, so all I said was, "When will I get out of here?" and he said, "Why, you will be released tomorrow."

I did not wait to hear any more, but rushed into the barracks again, slugging and whistling and yelling as loud as I could. The boys told me my face was very red and I guess what little blood I had in my body had rushed to my head, because I could hardly walk for a few minutes.

Then the men began to think I was crazy, and none of them believed I would really be released, but that I was going to be sent to the mines, as so many were. But I believed it, and I just sat there on my bunk and began to dream of the food I would get and what I would eat first, and so on.

I did not sleep that night—just walked from barracks to barracks until they chased me away, and then walked up and down in my own barracks the rest of the night. When I got to the Russian barracks and told the two doctors my news, they would not believe me at all, although they knew there had been some important visitor at the camp.

But when I walked out of their door I said, "Dobra vetshay," which means "Good night!" Then they must have believed me, for they called me back, and all the men gave me addresses of people to write to in case I should get away.

They were all talking at once, and one of the doctors got very excited and got down on his knees with his hands in the air. "Albert," he said, "if you have the God-given luck to get out of Germany—not for my sake, but for the sake of us who are here in this hell-hole, promise me you will tell all the people wherever you go what they are doing to us here. Tell them not to send money, for we need no money, and not meat—just bread, bread, bread!"

And when I looked around all the men were sitting on their beds crying and tearing their hair and saying, "bread, bread, bread," over and over again. Then each tried to give me something, us if to say that even if they did not get out, perhaps their button or belt or skull cap would get back to civilization.

When I left their barracks I began to cry, because it did not seem possible that I was going away, and already I could see them starving slowly, just as I had been starving.

The next morning a sentry came to my barracks, called out my name and took me to the commander of the camp. They searched me, and then drilled me back to barracks again. Then the men all thought they were just playing a joke on me, and they said so.

The same thing happened the next day, and when one of the men said that probably I would be summoned up against a wall and shot, I began to feel shaky, I can tell you.

But the third morning, after they had searched me, the commander said, "Well, you'll have to have a bath before you leave the country," and I was so glad that I did not mind about the bath, although I remembered the last one I had, and it did not agree very well with me. After the bath, they drilled me out into the road.

There were four sentries with me, but not Swatts, nor did I see him anywhere around, for which I was sorry. But all the boys came down to the barbed wire, or to the gates, and some were crying, and others were cheering, and all of them were very much excited. But after a minute or two they got together again and the last thing I heard was the song about packing up your old kit bag, and then, "Are we downhearted?—No!" They were certainly game lads.

They did not take me straight to the station, but took me through all the streets they could find, and as usual, the women were there with the bricks and spit. But I did not mind: I was used to it, and besides, it was the last time. So I just grinned at them, and thought that I was better off than they, because they had to stay in the hole called Germany.

I was still half naked, but I did not mind the two-hour wait on the station platform. I noticed a little sign that read, "Berlin 25 miles north," and that was the first time I had much of an idea where Brandenburg was.

When we got into the compartment and I found that the windows were not smashed I could not believe it at first until I remembered that this was not a prisoner train. We had a forty-eight hour ride to Lindau, which is on the Lake of Constance, and no food or water in that time. But still I did not mind it much. At Lindau they drilled us into a little house and took away all the addresses that I had, and then marched me over to the little boat which crosses the lake.

As I started up the gangway the last thing I received in Germany reached me—a crack across the back with a rifle!

The women and children on the dock had their fists up and were yelling, "American swine!" But I just laughed at them. And when I looked around the boat and saw no German soldiers—only Swiss civilians—I rubbed my eyes and could not believe it. When they gave me bread, which was what I had decided I wanted most of all back in the camp, I thought I was in heaven sure enough, and when, forty-five minutes later, we arrived at Rorschach in Switzerland, I finally knew I was free.

CHAPTER XXIV.

Back in the States.

After I arrived at Rorschach I was taken to a large hall, where I renamed over night. There were three American flags on the walls, the first I had seen in a long time. I certainly did a fine job of sleeping that night. I think I slept twice as fast to make up for lost time.

In the morning I had a regular banquet for breakfast—eggs, coffee, bread and a small glass of wine. Even now, although I never pass up a meal, that breakfast is still easy to taste, and I sometimes wish I could enjoy another meal as much. But I guess I never shall have one that goes as good.

After breakfast they took me out on the steps of the hall and photographed me, after which I went to the railway station, with a young mob at my heels. It reminded me a bit of Germany—it was so different. Instead of bricks and bayonet jabs, the mob gave me cigarettes and chocolate and sandwiches—enough to keep me busy answering to this day if I could.

I got on the train to Zurich, and at every stop on the way there were more presents and more cameras and more questions. At St. Gallen they had cards ready for me to write on, and then they were going to send them to anybody I wished. The station at Zurich was packed with people, and I began to think I was a star for sure.

Francis B. Keene, the American consul general at Zurich, and his assistant, were there to meet me. We walked a few blocks to his office, and all the way the cameras were clicking and the chocolates and cigarettes piled up until I felt like Santa Claus on December 24th. After a little talk with Mr. Keene, he took me to the Stusselhof hotel, where my wounds were dressed—and believe me, they needed it.

The Swiss certainly treated me well. Every time I came out on the streets they followed me around, and they used to give me money. But the money might just as well have been leather or lead—I could not spend it. Whenever I wanted to buy anything the shopkeeper would make me a present of it.

I also visited the Hotel Baur au Lac, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCormick of Chicago, who are doing such fine work with the Red Cross and are looking after the Belgian and

The Swiss Certainly Treated Me Well.

French refugees in Switzerland. It was a dinner, and much appreciated by one guest, at least. I need not mention his name, but he ate so much that he felt ashamed afterward.

I do not think he got in bad for it, though, for afterward Mr. and Mrs. McCormick each gave him a valuable present, which he needed badly. After the dinner Mrs. McCormick made a little patriotic speech, in which she said that the Huns would never trample on the United States flag, and some other things that made all the Americans there very proud, especially Mr. Keene and myself. So you see I was having a great time.

But I was having a little trouble, all the time, for this reason: there were quite a few Germans interested in Zurich, and they went about in uniform. Now, when I saw one of these birds and remembered what had been happening to me just a short time before my hands began to itch. Believe me, it was not "good morning" that I said to them. I enjoyed it all right; they were not in squads and had no arms, so it was hard to hand, and pie for me.

But Mr. Keene did not like it, I guess, for he called me to his office one morning and hauled me out for a while, and I promised to be good. "You're supposed to be neutral," he said. And I said, "Yes, and when I was torpedoed and taken prisoner, I was supposed to be neutral, too." But I said I would not look for trouble any more, and started back to the hotel.

But no sooner was I under way than a Hun private came along and began to laugh at me. My hands itched again, and I could not help but slam him a few. We went round and round for a while, and then the Hun reversed and went down instead. Mr. Keene saw us, or heard about it, so he told me I had better go to Berne.

So off I went, with my passport. But the same thing happened in Berne. I tried very hard, but I just could not keep my hands off the Germans. So I guess everybody thought it was a good thing to tell me good-bye—anyway I was shipped into France, going direct to St. Nazaire and from there to Brest.

I made a short trip to Hull, England, with a letter from a man at Brandenburg to his wife. She was not at home, but I left the letter and returned to France. I was in France altogether about three weeks, and then went to Barcelona, Spain.

Then I took passage for the States on the C. Lopez y Lopez, a Spanish merchantman. We had mostly "Spigs" on board, while the navy slang for Spaniards. Almost every one of them had a large family of children and a raft of pets. We sailed down through Valencia, Almeria, Malaga, Cadiz and Las Palmas in the Canary Islands. When we left Las Palmas we had a regular menagerie aboard—parrots, canary birds, dogs, monkeys and various beasts. The steerage of that boat was some sight, believe me.

We had boat drill all the way across, of course, and from the way those Spigs rushed about I knew that if a submarine got us the only thing that would be saved would be monkey. But we did not even have a false alarm all the way over.

I arrived in New York during the month of July, 1917—two years and a half from the time I decided to go abroad to the war zone to get some excitement. I got it, and no mistake. New York harbor and the old statue of Liberty looked mighty good to me, you can bet.

So here I am, and sometimes I have to pinch myself to be aware of it. I certainly enjoy the food and warmth I get here, and except for an occasional pro-German I have no trouble with anybody. My wounds broke open once in a while, and I am often bothered inside, on account of the gas I swallowed. They say I cannot get back into the service. It is tough to be knocked out before our own boys get into the scrap.

But I do not know. I am twenty-three years old, and probably have a lot to live for yet. I ought to settle down and be quiet for a while, but comfortable as I am, I think I will have to go to sea again. I think of it many times, and each time it is harder to stay ashore.

Congressman Fields was re-elected by the comfortable majority of 3,704. Gov. Stanley's majority for United States Senator is about 6,000.

Mr. McAdoo's retirement is a severe loss to the country. He has accomplished wonders in the management of the finances of the United States and in handling the railroads during the war. Planning and executing the sale of seventeen billions of Liberty Bonds is in itself a wonderful achievement, but this is only one of many things he has done in six strenuous years.

Mr. McAdoo, who has made a most remarkable record, has resigned as Secretary of the Treasury because the salary is too small to live on and he has not the private means to supply the deficiency.

This calls attention again to a matter that the United States needs to remedy. The salary of several highly responsible offices should be considerably increased. Cabinet officers receive only $12,000 per year, which is the same as has been paid for many years ago, while living conditions have changed very materially. Their salaries should be doubled, at least. The Supreme Judges should be better paid, as well as our Ambassadors to foreign countries. None but rich men can be appointed to these places now and this is not the policy of our country. There are many very able men without wealth and these important positions should be open to men of ability and special equipment, regardless of their wealth or lack of it.

The United States is well able to pay adequate salaries. Those who serve in these high positions and it is hoped the loss of Mr. McAdoo will arouse Congress to this important matter.

Having disposed of the most examples of autocracy, the substantial, civilized part of the world's population finds its next battle to be that of putting the socialists out of business. The peace of earth is very seriously threatened by these anarchists, known as the I. W. W., the Bolsheviks, etc. They are the same in all countries. Wild, incompetent, unjust, a mob that resorts to force and murder to get what its thriftless members desire from neighbors and country.

Thos. J. Mooney, one of their murderous leaders, is under sentence of death in California for placing bombs where a lot of innocent, patriotic citizens in a parade would be blown into eternity. The day for his execution is near at hand. 10,000 of his red flag band hold a meeting of protest against his death in New York city Tuesday night and hundreds of loyal soldiers and sailors made a raid on them. It is another situation like that of dealing with the Germans—nothing but force and force to the utmost will make an impression on these fellows. Now while we have a fine large army is a good time to put a stop to this menace.

There is much credit due to the agricultural agents working in the Big Sandy Valley and we have been intending for some time to refer to this fact.

To Mr. K. L. Varney, the district agent, is due the major share of credit, because he has had the largest job and has handled it with rare skill. This statement is not intended to detract from the credit of the county agents, however, as they have taken care of their more circumscribed territory most efficiently.

Mr. Varney is all that could be desired as a leader and director of agricultural progress and also of general uplift work. Not only is he equipped by education and experience, but his heart is in the work and his interest in the mountain people is beyond measure.

The war has served to emphasize the great worth of Mr. Varney, and his force of county agents as nothing else could have done. They met the emergencies and heavy tasks as only capable men could do. The seed corn campaign, the wheat campaign, the various kinds of club work all were handled with energy and good judgment, bringing excellent results.

The Liberty Loan campaigns as well as all other war work activities received valuable assistance from these men. Mr. Varney has answered calls from various parts of the district to speak at public gatherings in the interest of bonds and war work, and being a speaker of more than ordinary ability he has done much good in this way. The sheep industry is another good thing being promoted successfully by Mr. Varney and his assistants. Better methods of agriculture all along the line are being installed. Better livestock and improved conditions generally are the result of their work.

Mr. G. C. Baker, the agent in Lawrence county, is alert and ready to answer every call made by the farmers and citizens for help in any of the avenues coming within the range of his duties. He is on the job all the time and from what we can learn from the farmers his work is highly satisfactory.

The reports we hear from Johnson, Floyd, Pike and Martin are highly favorable also.

The higher authorities are doing a great thing for the farmers in thus providing convenient helps for their progress and prosperity.

Attention is called to the announcement column of the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Life Conference at Paintsville December 12, 13, 14. The meeting held at Louisa last winter had one of the finest programs ever assembled in Eastern Kentucky. We are assured that the program this year is to be the best possible to obtain and it will be worth going to Paintsville to hear. Let's give it a big attendance.

GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT! STOP DANDRUFF AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

HAIR STOPS FALLING OUT AND GETS THICK, WAVY, STRONG AND BEAUTIFUL.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it thru your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter for a few cents.

Christmas Eve

There is a holy hush in the twilight gray
That ushers in the Christmas day;

There's a solemn look in the stately trees
And a strange restraint in the winter breeze.

All nature's athrill with a great amaze.
On the threshold of this day of days.

The sky agleam with its myriad stars.
The clouds were more glorious at sunset's bars.

The faces of men have a tender glow;
Their voices in cadence are soft and low.

And heaven is a little nearer earth.

sinners alone, not the saints, who celebrated their birthdays. Another early writer referred to the fact that the birthdays of the pagan gods were kept by the people. The very first evidence of a feast having been held in honor of the birth of Christ was in Egypt about the year 201. Clement of Alexandria said, "Certain Egyptian theologians overcuriously assign not the year alone, but the day of Christ's birth, placing it on May 25." Another date assigned to the event was March 28.

Uncle Sam's Big Problem

Great warships are sliding off the ways; navy yards and arsenals are working night and day; great mobilization camps have sprung up as if by magic; everywhere the vast resources of the nation are being gathered together for war.

All over the Bell telephone system, thousands of employees are busily engaged in all branches of telephone activity, to keep pace with the extraordinary telephone needs of the nation. And with the increased government requirements, there will be greater demands for commercial service.

Not only is there a great scarcity of materials, but there is a similar scarcity of labor, and already many of our technically trained employees—men who cannot be replaced—have joined the colors.

As time goes on it will become continually harder to meet the demands for service from governmental and private sources—and our patrons are asked to bear this extraordinary condition in mind and to help in the maintenance of an effective service by eliminating all wasteful use of telephone lines and equipment.

Our loyal organization is working continuously to meet the increased demands and your patient co-operation will prove helpful and inspiring.

MAMMA! DON'T YOU SEE YOUR CHILD IS SICK, CONSTIPATED

LOOK AT TONGUE! MOVE POISONS FROM LIVER AND BOWELS AT ONCE.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given. Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative" and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

SOLDIER AT CAMP STUART.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Moore of Flat Gap, received the following letter from their son, Corporal Brice Moore.

Camp Stuart, Va., Nov. 15, 1918.
Dear Papa and Mama:—Glad to hear from you all. I am o. k., except very much disappointed as are all of the boys in the regiment. We were out as far as the mouth of the Chesapeake Bay on our way to France and were called back. Talk about a bunch of men being out of luck we were, but may get to go over yet. We stand a little show. You have no idea unless you had been in some large city how the people did rejoice.

At three o'clock Monday morning I was awakened by a shrill scream of a fog horn they have on the tug, you can hear it 30 miles, from that all the whistles began to blow and the bells began to ring. You have no idea how the cold chills ran over a fellow unless you had the experience. Everybody in the city shouting. There were several killed accidentally. Then Monday afternoon we got orders for a parade through the city. There were six thousand of us. I saw women go wild with joy and crying with a smile and screaming at the top of their voices.

You haven't any idea how you feel unless you could see it. One time Monday night the commanding officer let 75 per cent of the boys out of the camp. We all went down town and that beat all I ever saw. There were not less than fifteen thousand soldiers and sailors in Newport News. Monday night they even tied old wagons on top of the trolley cars and old huggies and every old thing. All together then we would have an automobile pulling and then have high truck loaded with soldiers singing and shooting. One little incident in particular I will mention that I thought was pretty good: A Jew had a peanut stand on the street, one of those little waggon stands, and he had been soaking the boys pretty stiff so when we were having the big parade of wagons, wheelbarrows, tin buckets and everything mentionable, a bunch of soldiers and sailors grabbed that wagon with him on it and went down the street in full speed, he hallooing and the peanuts and pop corn flying every way, ha, ha, so it was something like that until a late hour at night. Well I have got my grading as a non-commissioned officer and sent the warrant to you I received when I was made an officer. Put it in a frame for me. Well we are just standing here. Don't know which way we will go.

Don't get scared at these pictures. This cap is all I have to wear on my head except my steel helmet and it weighs 5 pounds. Answer soon. Your son, BRICE MOORE.

OBITUARY.

Sheridan J. Cochran, son of John Cochran was born July 24, 1907, departed this life November 1, 1908, aged 11 years, 3 months and 7 days. Sheridan was a bright, intelligent boy. I had been acquainted with him for more than a year and always found him kind and pleasant. He was a member of our Sunday school at Fallsburg and was attentive in his class. He was anxious to learn about the blessed Christ. He was loved by all who knew him and will be greatly missed by all. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved ones and pray that the blessings of Almighty God may be upon them. He leaves father, stepmother, one half brother, one half sister and a host of friends and relatives to mourn their loss. Weep not for our loss; heaven's gain. His funeral was conducted by the writer of this sketch. He was laid to rest in Cochran's graveyard near Fallsburg. God claimed him as his own. Let us all strive to meet him over there. Ere sin could blight or sorrow fade, Death came with friendly care; The opening bud to heaven conveyed, And bade it blossom there.
H. C. CONLEY.

Loaded.
Three men went shopping one long night,
Then staggered down the homeward road;
The things they bought were not in sight,
Yet each one had an awful load.

FOOD PRICES FIXED BY U. S.

The Food Administration has fixed the following prices as the highest at which certain articles of food may be sold by retail dealers in Kentucky.
States above these figures will constitute a violation of the law.

United States Food Administration.
Maximum Margins On Sales
By Retailers To Consumers.
(Issued November 7, 1918.)

Percentage may be calculated on the selling price. Delivered cost shall mean the cost at the railroad, steamboat or other terminal in the retailer's town. Where the retailer is not located in a railroad or steamboat town he may include any hauling charge in the delivered cost.

The lesser margin indicated is not a minimum margin, but is a maximum margin for those whose cost of doing business is less, such as stores which do not perform the services of credit and delivery. Any change from the pre-war practice in cash discount, terms or other changes which tend to or result in increasing the margin of profit allowed will be dealt with as an unfair practice.

The retailer may have the benefit of fractional costs on each transaction;
that is, he may calculate the total charge to a customer on any transaction as if fractional costs were not allowed and if the result is a fraction, he may add thereto such fraction of a cent as may be necessary to make a price in even cents.

COAL RULES ARE MODIFIED

Washington, Nov. 22.—Because of congested transportation conditions and the inability to handle the coal tonnage from certain districts, the United States Fuel Administration to-day announced necessary modifications in the restrictions heretofore governing parts of zones L and N.

The producing districts affected are those known as the K. and M. the Kennawha district on the C. & O. railroad;
The Guyan Valley and the Logan districts on the C. & O., and the Kenova Thacker districts on the Norfolk & Western railroad, all in West Virginia, and the Big Sandy Valley and the Elkhorn districts in Kentucky.

Producers in these districts are now permitted to ship coal into a portion of Indiana and Ohio. The shipments into Indiana, however must be confined to coal for industrial plants.

Jas. W. Hinkle and children of Richardson, were in Louisa Tuesday.

HOME CIRCLE

Of all evils prevailing among young men we know of none more blighting in its moral effects than the tendency to speak slightly of the virtue of women. Nor is there anything in which young men are so thoroughly mistaken as the low estimate they form of the integrity of women—not of their own mothers and sisters, thank God, but of others, who, they forget are somebody else's mothers and sisters.

Don't wait until a man gets into trouble before lending him a helping hand; don't wait until he gets sick to extend him your sympathy; don't wait until he is dead to speak in eulogy of him. Strive to make him happy as he walks down the pathway of life, then you will have done some good, but if you wait until he dies,
your helping hand, your sympathy and your eulogies will avail him nothing as he plunges into the Great Unknown.

The young woman who keeps her hands white at the expense of her mother, who performs the household duties, is never likely to astonish people with her order and cleanliness
when she gets a home of her own.
Neither is the young man who depends on his father for the necessaries of life and the good clothes which he wears, apt to set a very large portion of the world afire.

There are a great many things in this world that we are not sure of,
but there is one thing we may be sure of—"Be sure your sins will find you out."

All that the wife can do will not make the home an agreeable one.
Neither can a wife be happy with a husband who is addicted to finding fault with his bread and butter. She may try ever so hard to please him, yet when he sits down to meals, she lives in constant fear that some portion of the food will not suit his fastidious taste.

Be polite to your children. Do you expect them to be mindful of your welfare, to grow glad at your approach, to bound away at your pleasure before your request is half spoken? Then, with all your dignity and authority, single politeness. Give it a niche in your household temple.
Only then will you have the true secret of sending out into the world really finished gentlemen and ladies.

We cannot honor with too deep a reverence the home affections; we cannot cherish them with too much solitude. Members of the home circle lose nothing by being polite and kind to one another. Little children are such intuitive creatures. If the father shows kindly attention to the mother, bright eyes will see the act and is sure to do just like papa.

Every wife ought to know her husband's income, and that knowledge should be the guide of her domestic expenses. Better is a dinner of herbs than a stalled ox with hatred therein.
Where a wife makes up her mind to do her duty in this respect she will brighten her little home and make it a place of perpetual sunshine.

Words of kindness do more good than hard speeches, do the sunbeams, without any noise will make a traveler cast off his coat, which all the blustering words could not do. If we are kind to others, we not only benefit them, but the influence on them is great, and if we cultivate the grace of kindness our own characters grow nobler and better.

Would that our busy toilers could realize that they must enjoy passiv-days, if they would be happy. The pleasure to which they look forward seldom comes. The man or woman who has not learned contentment and how to find delight in the present, has little reason to expect it in the future.

Women are the majority in the church on earth, and it is reasonable to suppose they will be three-fourths of the population in heaven.

Take aim before you shoot; otherwise your shot may go crashing in among heartstrings and still their quivering forever.

Don't try to follow ever fashion
unless you wish to ruin your health, your good looks, and your pocket books.

Wife, your power in the home is unlimited. You are its queen. There, at least, your sway is undisputed.

There is always a ray of light to pierce our gloom, if we will not close our eyes and refuse to see it.

Keep the home fires bright if you would have the winter of life warm and pleasant.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE SOFT CLEAR

Make this beauty lotion for a few cents and see for yourself.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore, irritating and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quart of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost of one usually pays for a small jar of orchard cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.
Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

RACE WAS CLOSE.

In regard to the race for county court commissioner in Logan-co., W.
Va., the Logan Democrat says:

In what is said to have been the closest political race ever known in Logan-co., Dr. W. F. Farley, the Democratic candidate, won over Naaman
Jackson, Republican, by 7 votes.

Not until the official returns from the very last precinct had been received was the winner determined. These were not received until the election workers from the lower precincts of Chapmanville district arrived and the candidate and their friends had the most anxious moments until that time.
Headway reports that kept shifting the advantage to one side or another during this time added to the excitement of the affair and had everybody interested.

Mr. Jackson made a splendid race against heavy odds and his remarkable heavy vote is a fine testimonial to the high esteem in which he is held by the people of the county generally.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL

Starts your liver without making you sick and can not salivate.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason, Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results.
said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it.
A large bottle costs but a few cents,
and it is safe to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant tasting, purely vegetable remedy harmless to both children and adults.
Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent emol.

J. M. BENTLEY WRITES AGAIN.

Editor:—I was touched at seeing last week items in regard to the death of several loyal citizens of Lawrence county, some of whom I have met at Lodge, I. O. O. F., Fallsburg.

Camp Sevier had many difficulties getting started here, the camp having been built right in the woods where large pine and other timber was cut and later the stumps pulled by machinery.

We would all love to hear William name some of the different places along the Rhine and see what kind of talent his culture can display.
Most all of us feel like the war is nearly done. I think so too, but it is too bad. Some of us in the 48th were figuring on marching through Berlin as this division is claimed to be one of the best drilled of any in the world,

all the different methods of fighting.
Some of the boys are sorry they will not get to go "over," but as to myself I am not sorry I'm not going and I'm not mad if I have to go.

I enjoy reading the letters in the NEWS from the different village in the county. An extra is just out saying Germany will fight through, but I assure you there will not be any fighting through unless the same light through Berlin.

Co. "I" 48th Inf., Camp Sevier, Greenville, S. C.

HEAD AND NOSTRILS STUFFED FROM COLD

"Pepp's Cold Compound" ends a cold or grippe in a few hours.

Your cold will break and all gripmiserly and after taking a dose of "Pepp's Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages. In the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing,
soreness and stiffness.
Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbb-ing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pepp's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice and is no substitute.

Hdqts. Co. 46th Infantry,
Camp Sheridan, Oct. 11, 1918.

Mrs. L. E. Kelley,
Zella, Kentucky.

Dear Macam:—It is quite a pleasure to me as Company Commander of Headquarters Company 46th Infantry to inform you that Private Edgar J. Kelley of this company has conducted himself in quite a soldierly and military manner and has at all times been ambitious and industrious. He has taken a great interest in his company and helped in many ways to bring it to this high standard. It enjoys and to make it worthy of its well known motto:—"Always first." It is such men as he that on the battlefield a company commander can always feel safe that whatever duty may be assigned to him will be carried out.
Knowing the pride that you have in him I am anxious that you should know I take the same attitude and wish to share with you. The same feeling that as an honest, upright citizen has a helping influence over his fellowmen, so does your son by his moral and military virtues set an example for his weaker comrades.
Trusting that he will remain in my command, I remain,
Sincerely, JOHN R. PATER,
Captain 46th Infantry, Comd'g H. G.
Company, Camp Sheridan.

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering. Says
Cardui Made Her Well.

Texarkana, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work."

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all,
and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent,
for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui.

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui.
It all wonders for me."

Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today.

Bridge crew, working at St. Albans. The latter was at the same time shot in the side. He was taken to a Huntington hospital where he died later.

Mr. Justice was a native of Pike county and for a long time had been engaged in the liquor business here. He was witness for the prosecution in the trial of Combs for the murder of Jerome Hardin, having been with the latter when he was shot for which crime the slayer was given a life sentence.

The fight was over a woman and the men had had trouble some time previous to the duel that had such fatal results. Pletsel leaves a wife and three children who reside in Pennsylvania.

ANOTHER GOOD MAN DIES.

W. J. Cochran was born March 28, 1877 and departed this life November 6, 1918, age 41 years, 7 months and 11 days. He was a citizen of Fallsburg, Ky. His many friends as well as his relatives were greatly shocked by his death. It came so suddenly that it was a surprise to each of us. He was sick just a week and did not seem to be seriously ill until the evening of November 6, when he became worse and died in a few hours.

Walter was a noble man. He was perfectly honest in his dealings with his fellowman. His good wife preceded him to heaven just one year ago. A darling little babe was taken a few months later. He told me just a short time before he died that he was going to strive to meet them in heaven. He was a member of the Masonic lodge at Louisa. He was a true Odd Fellow and understood the meaning of Oddfellowship, and was always willing and ready to take any part of the work that he was called upon to do. He will be greatly missed in the lodge room and in our community. He leaves three children, rather, mother, three brothers and a host of friends to mourn their loss. His funeral was conducted by the writer. His body was laid to rest in the Harman graveyard, there to await the general resurrection.

Killed in Action.

Wesley Coyer, of this city, has received notice of this date of his son, Jesse, who was killed in France Oct. 4. He was about 20 years of age. He was a popular young man. He is the only soldier from our county reported killed in action. Two others, Lyndon Langley, and Ruby Clark, died in the camps.

Schools Reopened.

The city schools reopened Monday, Nov. 18 after having been closed for more than a month on account of the Spanish flu. This dread disease seems to have about spent itself and we trust the schools will not be disturbed again.

Over the Top.

The United War Work Campaign is a success. The pledge returns show a very substantial increase over our quota which is $4,162.50 for the county. The subscriptions will run over five thousand dollars which shows the patriotism of our people.

Mrs. Powers Dead.

Mrs. Adeline Powers died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ann Cox, of Putnam, Va., Tuesday morning November 19. She had been the guest of her daughter several months and been in poor health for about a year. Mrs. Powers was well known here where she was reared and has lived for the most part for 71 years of her life.

She is survived by five children, two sons, O. P. Powers of Ashland, W. H. Powers, of Jacksonville, Tex.; Mrs. W. H. Richardson of Chicago; Miss Hattie Powers, and Mrs. Ann Cox of Putnam, Va. She was a member of the Methodist church, and was buried in the May cemetery just below town.

Personal Mention.

Misses Ruth and Mary Archer left a few days ago for a commercial course at Bowling Green, Ky.

Miss Ruth Davidson has returned to Huntington, W. Va., for a commercial course.

Mrs. C. W. Evans, Mrs. Lon Molen and Mrs. Hensley were shopping in Cincinnati last week.

Mrs. E. W. Pendleton and daughter Alice Loraine left Monday for Salyersville, Ky., to visit relatives.

CAMP TAYLOR MEN.

Official announcement was made at Camp Zachary Taylor that demobilization of candidates in the Field Artillery Central Officers' Training School who have accepted the option of immediate discharge, would begin Tuesday of this week. Men who have elected to leave will be sent home from the following batteries: 1st, 2d, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th and 21st Training Batteries. Physical examination has been completed and between 600 and 1000 a day will be discharged. Hitherto only casuals from the observation batteries and men who reported to the school after November 11 have been discharged.

INEZ

At Inez, Ky., on November 23, Friday at 4:30, the death angel visited the home of Mr. Mah Brown and took him from his dear wife and family. He was 66 years of age. He only suffered a short time. Influenza caused his death. He leaves a wife and 12 children and a host of friends and relatives to mourn his loss. Weep not, dear friends, for we feel that our loss is heaven's gain for death always chooses shining marks. Mah always was a bright and industrious man, loved by all who knew him. Everything was done that could be by loving hands and medical skill to save his life, but the Lord saw fit to take him home and said "Come up Higher." We can not call him back to us, but we can prepare ourselves to meet him in the great beyond where there will be no more sorrow nor parting.

UNCLE SAM'S BABY.

Privt. Richard Hewlett of the 9th Co. C. A. C., Fort Bollivar, Tex., received his discharge and reached home the 22nd of this month. Richard enlisted in U. S. army before he was 15 years old. He was in the service 3 months and was home only once on a furlough. Is not this some grit for a 15 year old boy? He was in four different training camps. He was the youngest and the least soldier among them all and for this reason he was called "Uncle Sam's baby." His friends are all glad to have him back home.

G. W. Castle returned Wednesday from a business trip to Frankfort.
